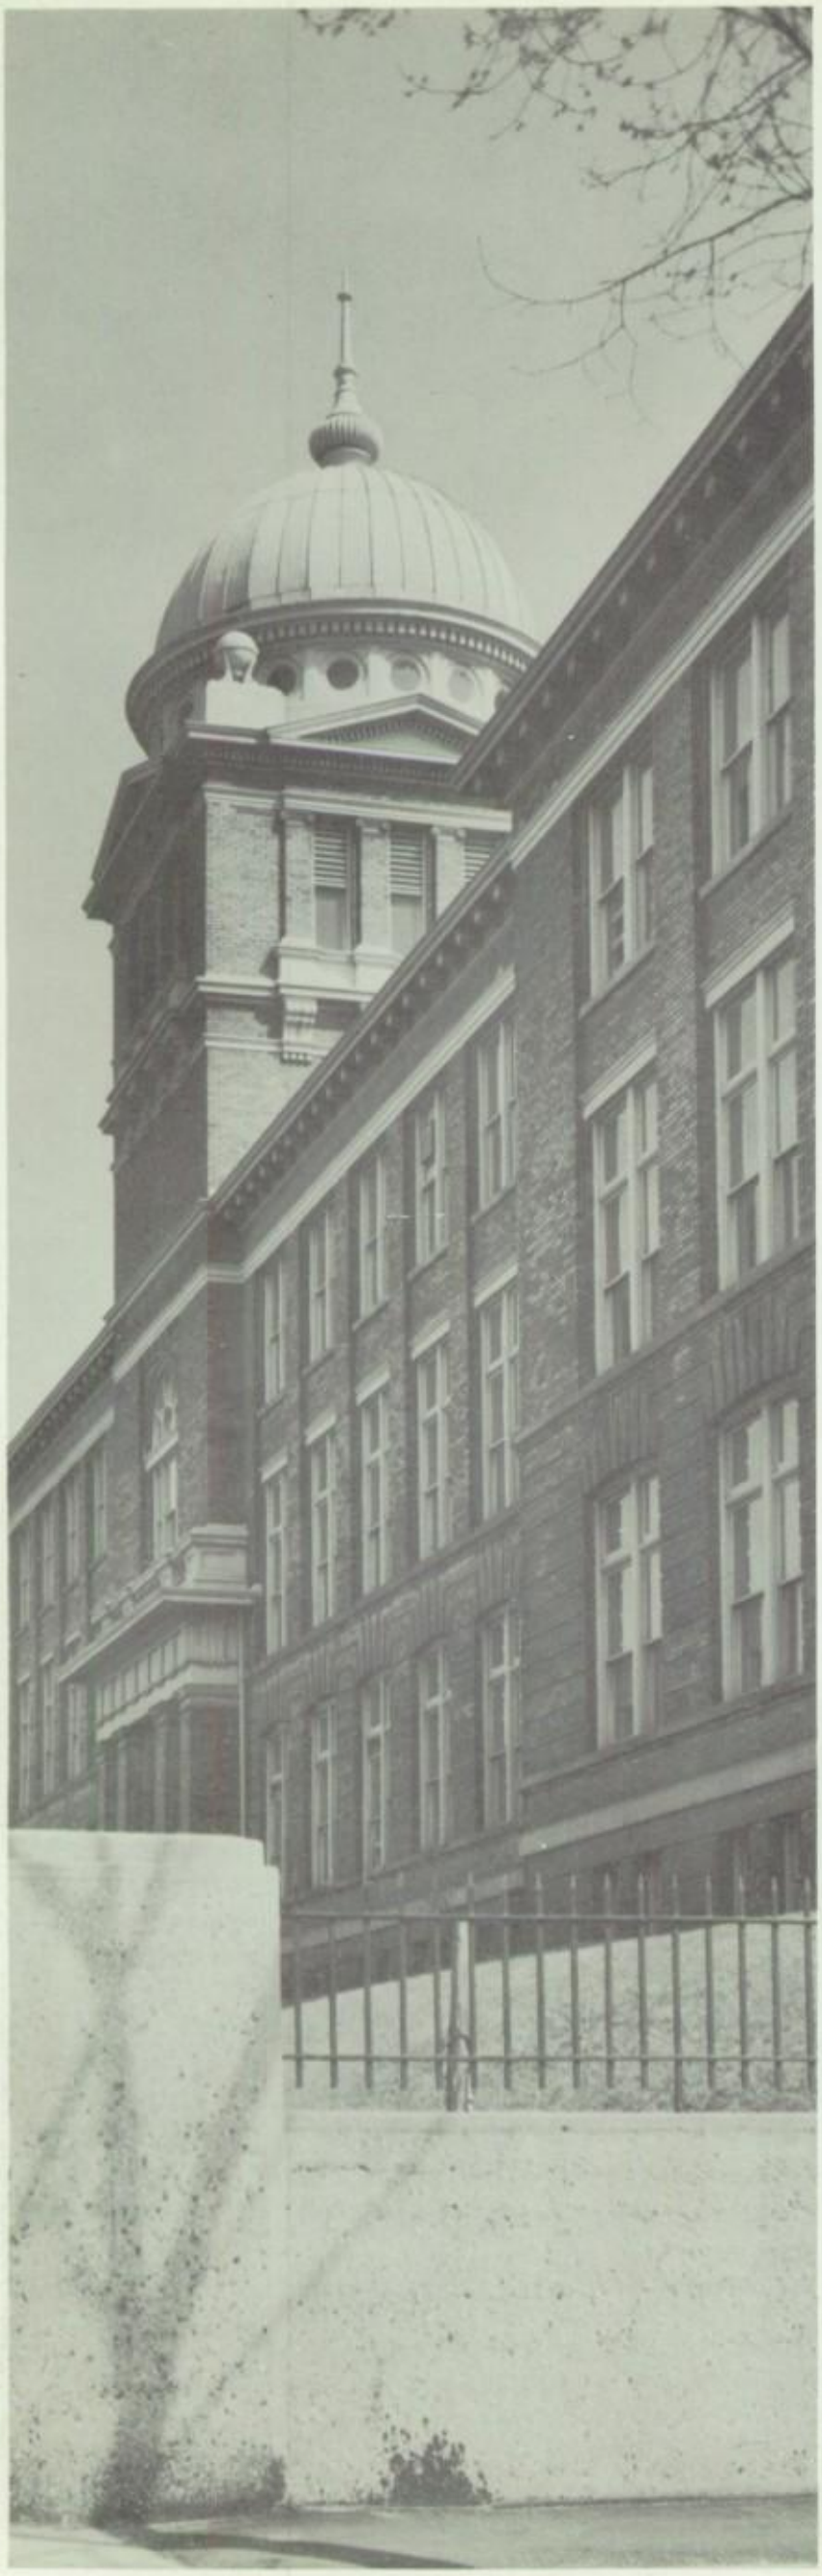
NAME

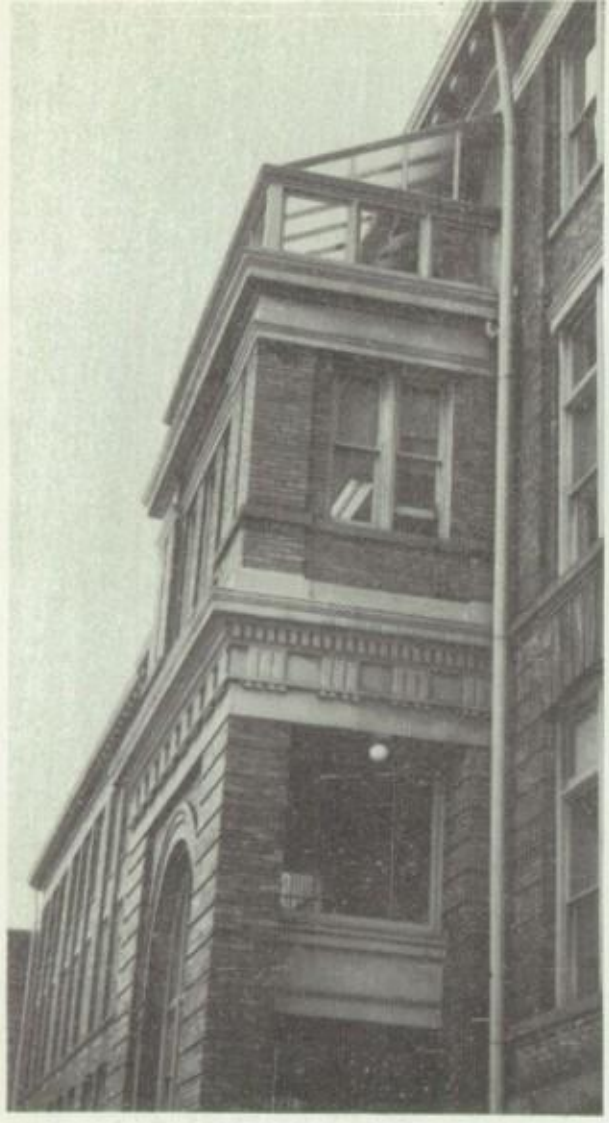
THE 1963
CARDINAL ANNUAL

THE FIFTIETH YEARBOOK
PUBLISHED BY STUDENTS OF
SOUTH DIVISION HIGH SCHOOL
MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

50th Anniversary of the Cardinal Annual, 1913-1963

Congratulations, South Division, for being a pioneer among Milwaukee high schools in the publication of a yearbook. From the first, thin, paper-covered issue in June 1913, each volume is a precious record of a year that will return no more but will live forever in pages of pictures and stories. Time moves swiftly on, and now it is the function of this fiftieth Cardinal to tell the 1963 story as the big South Division family has lived it and to return now and then to the colorful past.

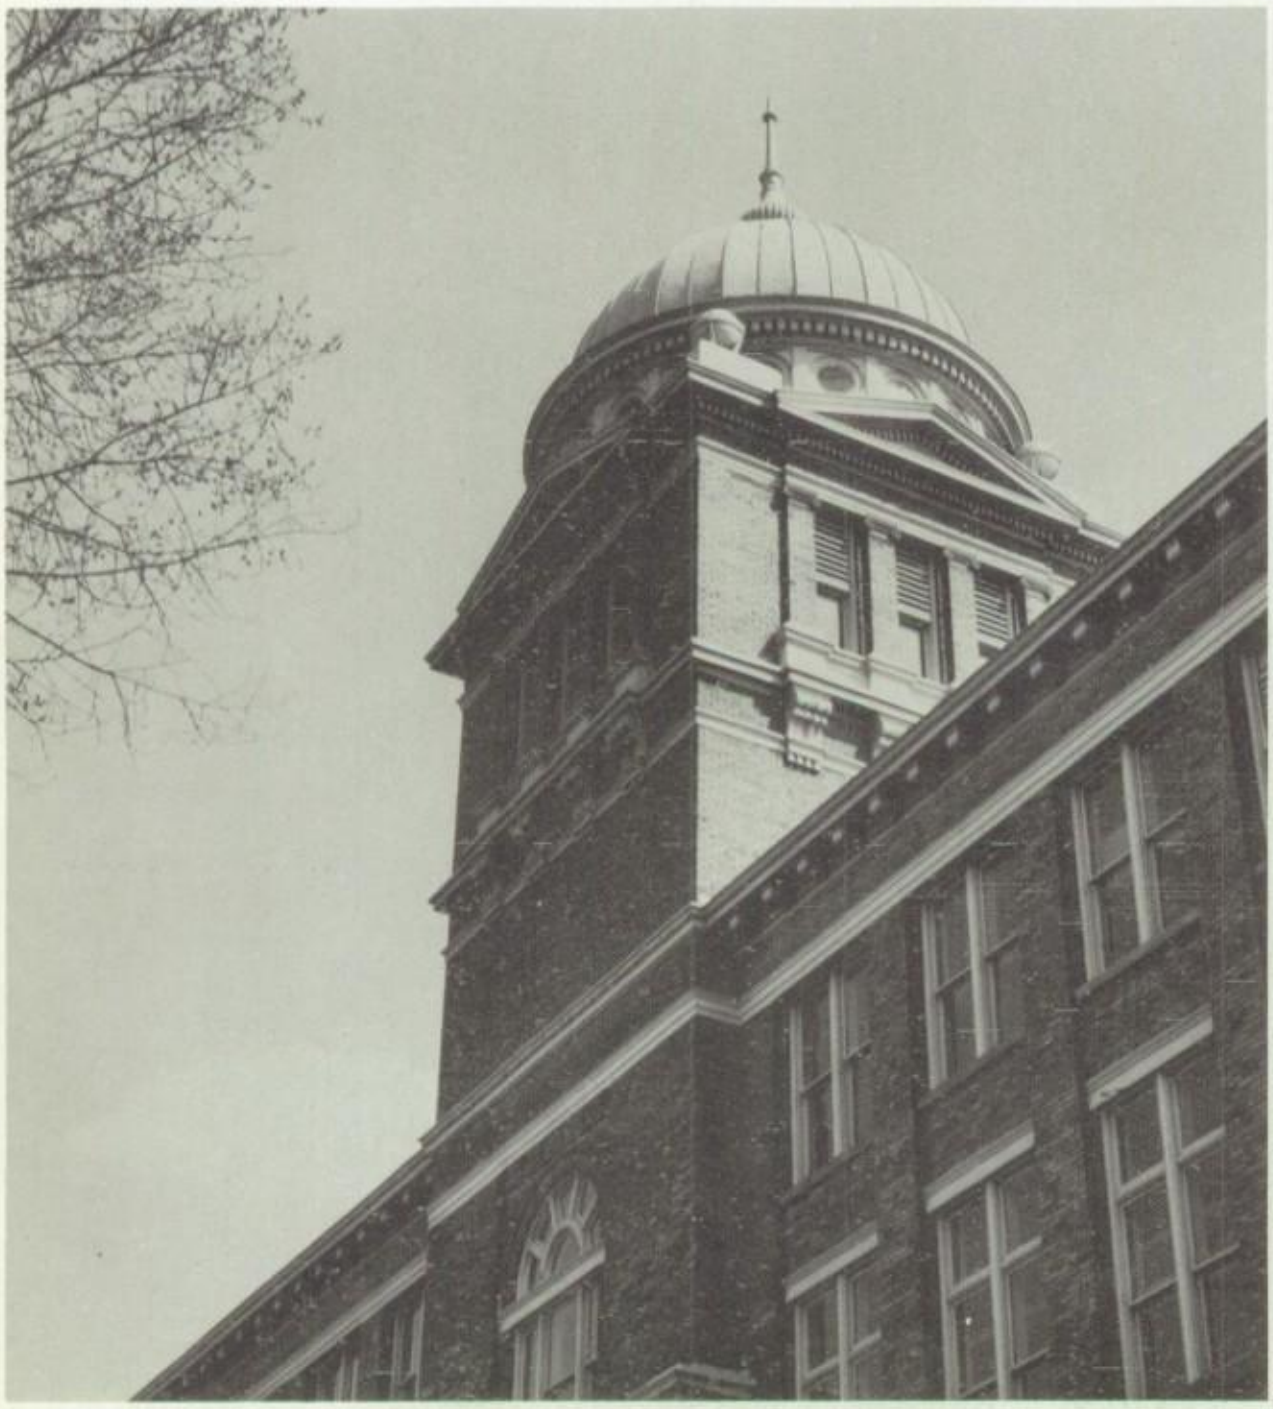


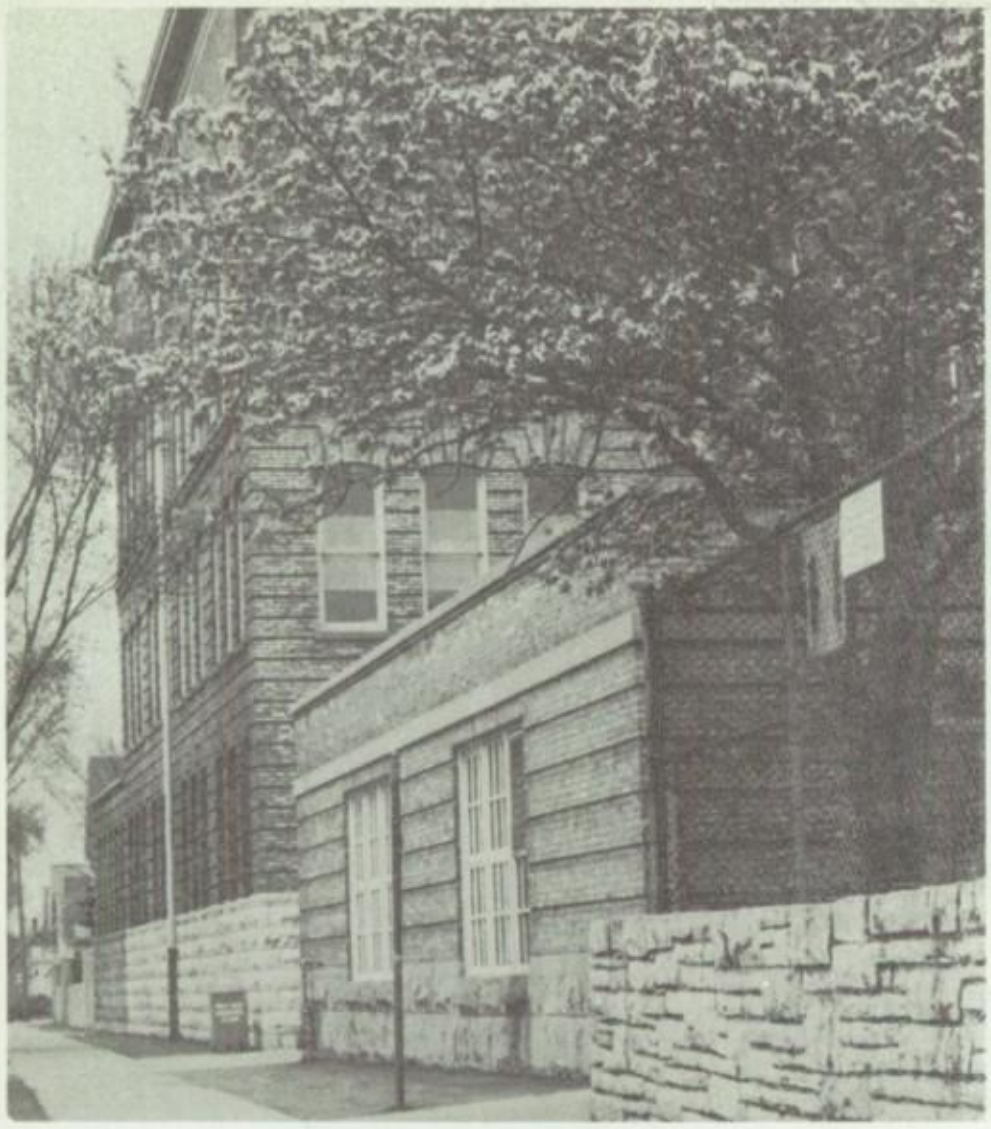


A PLEDGE FOR SOUTH DIVISION HIGH SCHOOL

We will fight together and alone for the high ideals for which our school stands.

We will preserve the noble traditions of the school: clean speech, clean sports, clean habits, and incite reverence for them in all who join us in the school.



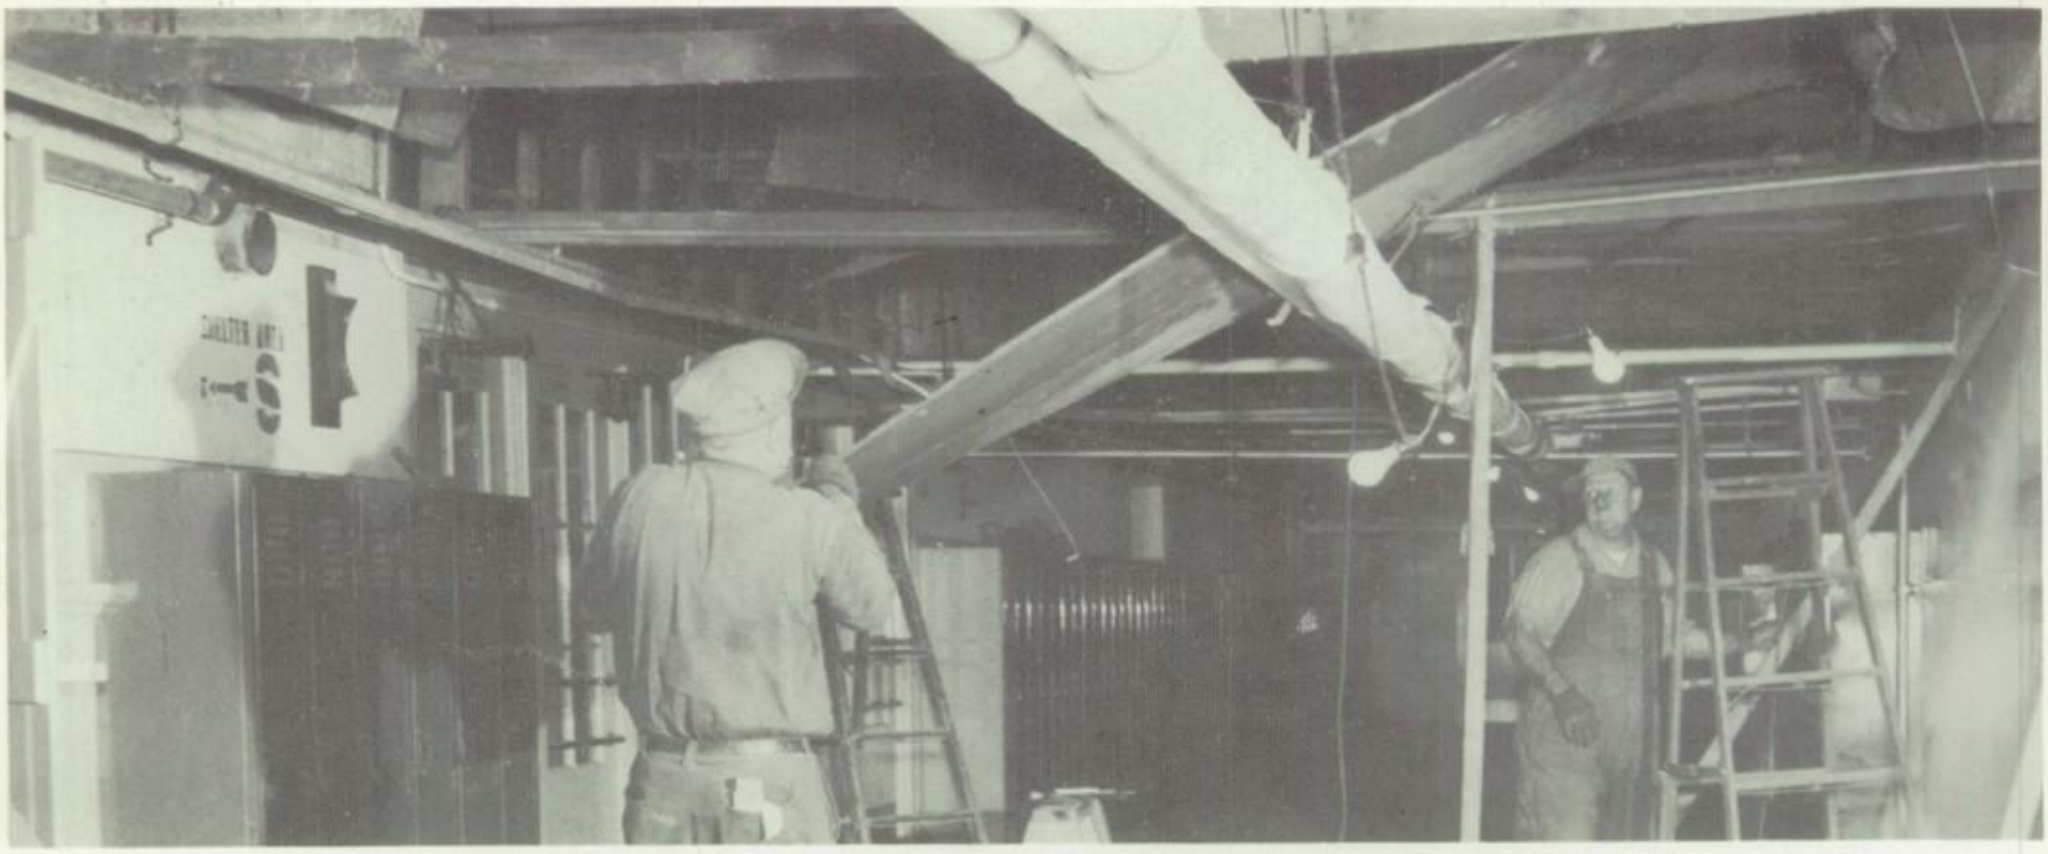


A PLEDGE FOR SOUTH DIVISION HIGH SCHOOL

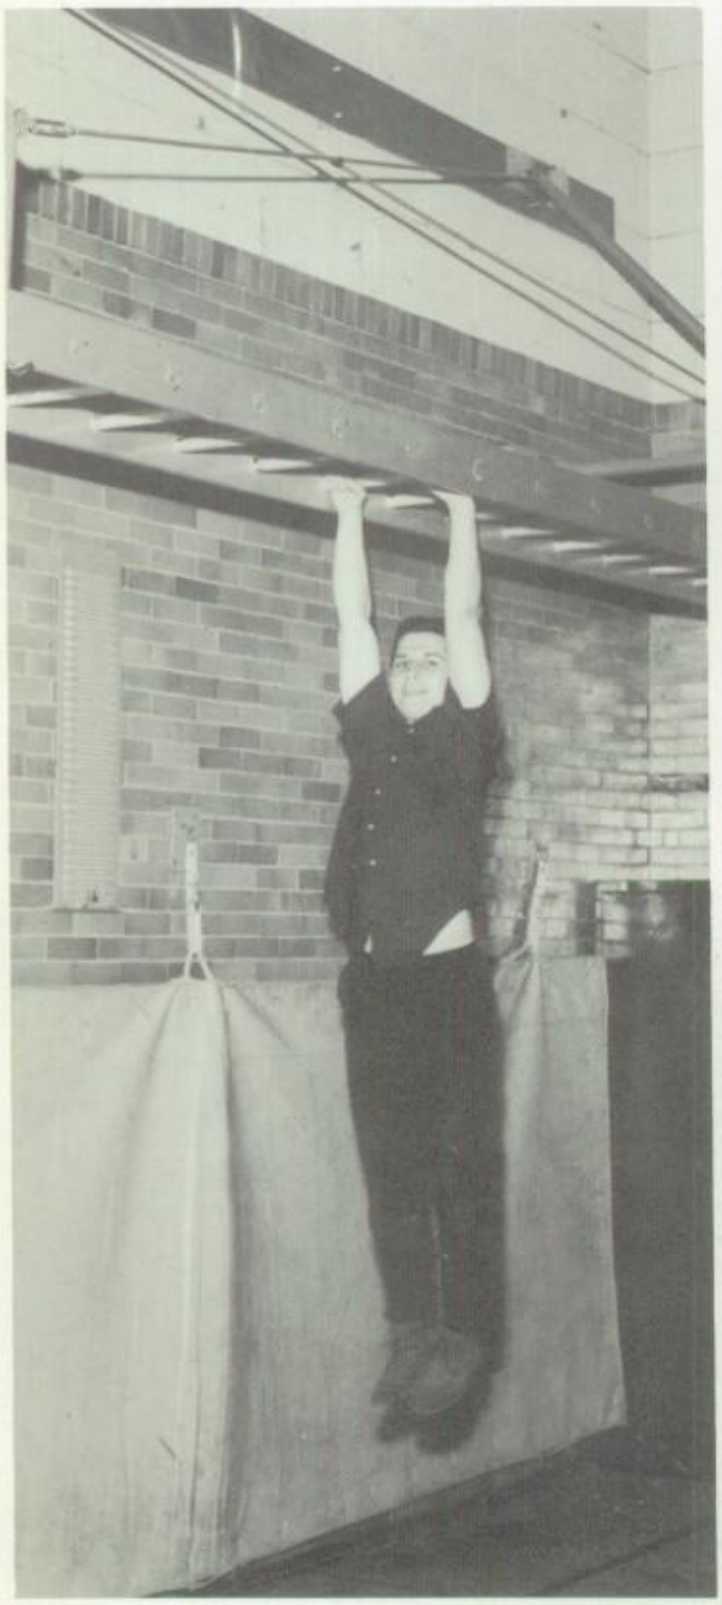
We will be loyal to the true interests of the comrades who stand in line with us.

We will in all these ways strive to make our school nobler, better, and more beautiful than we found it when we came to South Division.

Adopted 1917



Breathe deeply everyone and enjoy the fresh air brought inside by the new ventilation system.



Monkey Island? No, just a senior trying out a new suspended ladder.

Gangway! Workmen carry in truck loads of new materials.

A YEARBOOK IS BORN IN 1913

School picnics were popular in the decade of 1913–1923 especially when students used their fathers' Model T Fords to drive to Mitchell park. In these days of the "Tin Lizzies", Annuals sold for one dollar each, and the enrollment at South reached the grand total of 987 students. The Cards won the city football championship in 1913 and in 1917 rolled over Washington 84 to 0. In 1919, the school proudly celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary, and the yearbook staff published a special paper back edition with silver and gray cover. Milwaukee's popular Judge Herbert Steffes was the editor-in-chief of the 1922 book. But alas, the good old days lost some of their glory in 1919 when students were compelled to take final examinations for the first time.

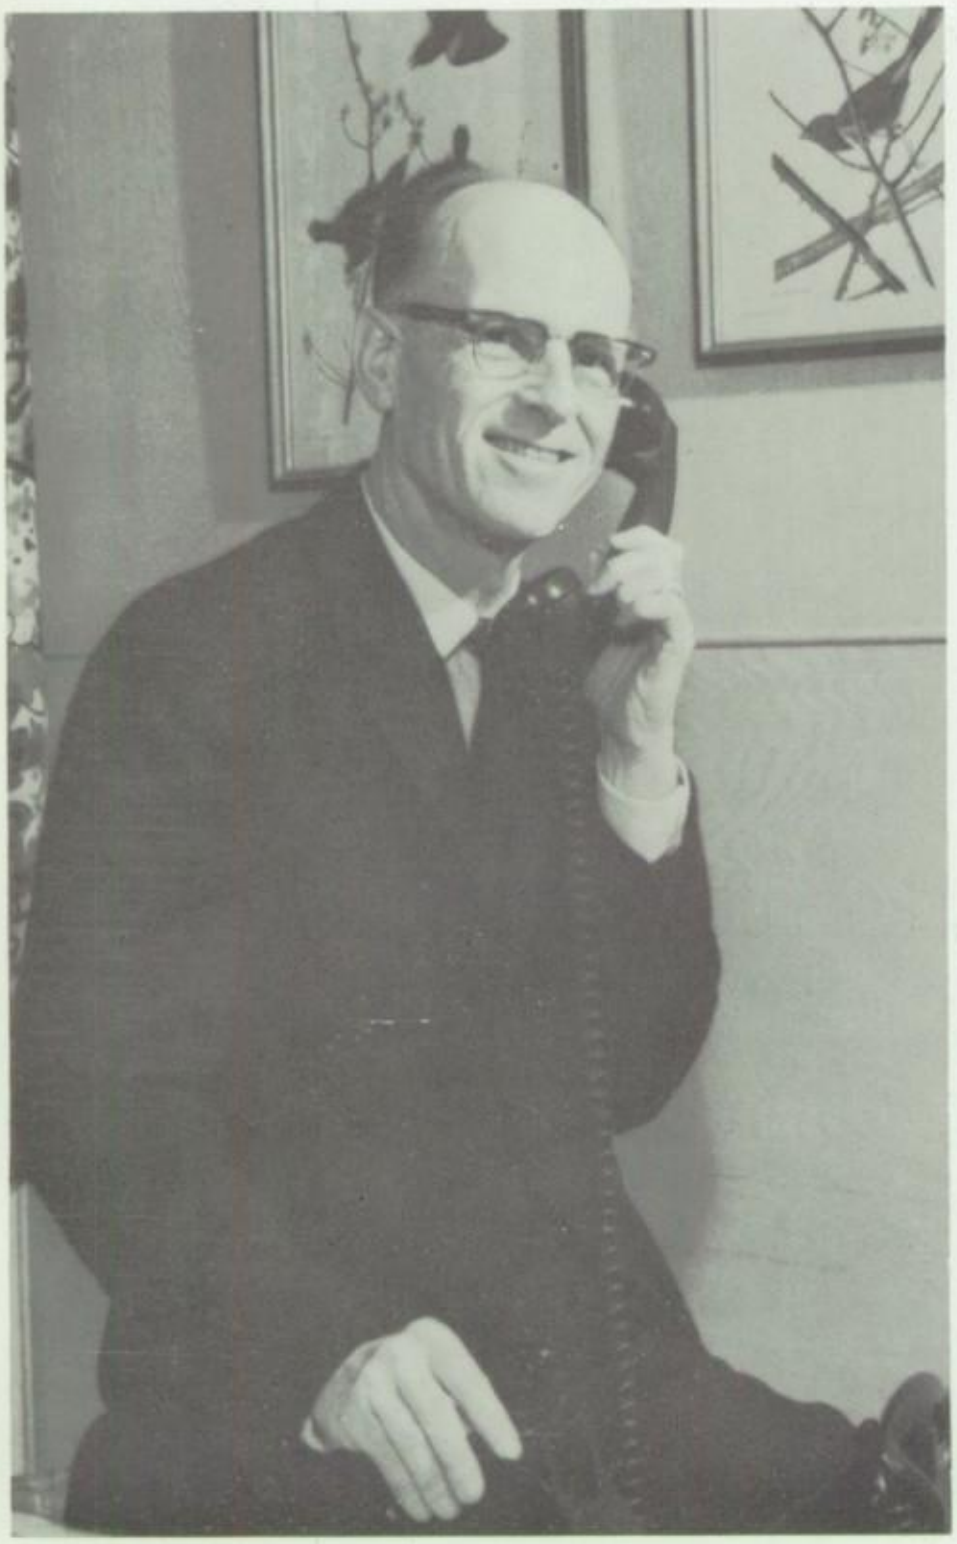
Generations of Tradition

"This is a great year as our Cardinal Annual reaches its 50th milestone. It is a proud and happy year, and we point with reverend admiration to the grand inheritance of the past half century. Our Cardinal Annuals are our source books upon whose pages we have recorded our achievements in permanent form, in pictures and in words. Our victories may not be great; our deeds may not be breath-taking, but they are ours. Therefore, this becomes for us a banner year as we struggle onward and forward 'Shoulder to Shoulder'."



Vice-Principal Phill May

"For a half century the Cardinal Annual has signified the end of each school year. To stand the test of time for this fifty-year period characterized by changes in everything—ideas, institutions, things, people—requires something special. Only the best can resist replacement. Anything still popular after so many years must have an ageless appeal. The Cardinal Annual was top-notch right from the beginning, and it has changed only enough to keep up-to-date. Congratulations."

Assistant Principal Estelle Stone

This 50th Anniversary Cardinal Annual revives memories of sadness and joy, struggle and final victory throughout the years of both World Wars and the Korean Conflict. Indeed, our Cardinal Annual, in addition to its usual fine features of graduate and student activities, has always faithfully portrayed South Division's civic and patriotic role during a half century of vital American history, and likewise the alertness of our students to modern Aerospace age problems and progress.

WANT TO LEARN ART OF LEADERSHIP? ASK COUNSELORS

Mr. Conrad Saskowski and Mrs. Mildred Blauert, sophomore counselors, combine efforts to maintain a rescue station for baffled sophomores. Administering vitamins, these teachers helped tenderfoots select their subjects. Light-hearted juniors begin to grasp the importance of a college education through the guidance of Miss Delores Pederson. Miss Alice Paquette works hard to encourage seniors to keep climbing toward graduation and good jobs.

Dedication: To All Cardinal Annual Editors

Who creates a high school yearbook? What do editors do that takes so many hours? They attempt to fill the pages of a 168-page book with significant material and with each page arranged attractively. They try to publish a memory book that will delight all the students now and that will give them many happy hours of reminiscing 20 years from now. First job for the editors in September is selecting a theme that will tie all sections of the book together. Then there is a format to make, a cover to design, pictures to be taken, information to be gathered, copy to be written. Pictures have to be sorted and identified, copy rewritten and revised to fit type areas and every page "dummied" to make sure all looks well designed. Editors are top, all-around students who are hard workers and who have learned to pull together. Because their job is such an important one and usually a thankless one, the 1963 staff proudly dedicates this year's Cardinal Annual to all editors of South Division yearbooks.

A YEARBOOK 10 YEARS OLDER, GETTING BOLDER

When the Detroit automobile wizard changed his "Tin Lizzie" to a Model A in 1929, South Division went one step further adding a new addition to the south of the original structure. As the "Baby Lincoln" came out with a gear shift transmission, hydraulic shock absorbers, and four wheel brakes, the school shifted into high gear by completing a new athletic field, the South stadium. Also in this period the 1923 and the 1925 Cardinal Annuals were awarded the highest rating of All-American in the Central Interscholastic Press Association contest. The contents included fifty pages of advertising, the class will, recipes, humorous articles on how to avoid your father on grade day, class poems, and a history of each of the four classes.

HAPPY DAYS

TO REMEMBER AMONG

SENIORS' SOUVENIRS

5 WTMJ-TV photographers snapped pictures of the prom which were shown on the "Today for Women" television program, narrated by Miss Beulah Donahue. South Division was the only high school selected for this program.

6 Battling for the rebound, Coach Pat Jankiewicz (left) and senior Bruce Johnson stir up fans at the annual faculty-senior basketball game. The teachers won, 67-60.

More Dancing, Feasting, Frolic

At Allen-Bradley Postprom Party

1 Queen for a Night admires bouquet of roses from South Side Lions Club.

2 Leading the grand march, the queen hums "Oh What a Beautiful Evening" to her king.

3 Expectation and joy are reflected upon the regal faces of the prom court.

4 Whispers and giggles are exchanged as anxious couples await the momentous coronation.

5 Rustling skirts, harmonious music, and gay decorations kept promgoers dancing all night.

6 Taking time out to eat, South couples were treated to a delicious dinner served at the Allen Bradley company.

7 Colorful, fragrant corsages enhanced the springtime theme.

8 "Taking a breather," some prom goers rested their aching feet.

Caperee Offers Skits A La Huntley-Brinkley

1 "Sweethearts of Sigma Chi?" No, The spicy Minty Crystals. They might not make Carnegie Hall, but they were a smashing success in Coblentz Hall.

2 "Let us entertain you, and you'll have a real good time," echoed through Coblentz Hall as the announcers of the 1963 Caperee got the show rolling.

3 It looks like Caroline Kennedy (Shirley Ringwelski) and her girl friend Jill (Betty Kangas) will never make up.

4 The Ukranian Dancers, winners of the best group performance in the 1962 Caperee, came back to whirl across the stage at the request of South Divisionites.

A YEARBOOK 20 YEARS LATER, GROWING GREATER

Starting in the 1930's, Ford made the next big change by adding a V-8 engine, elongating the body and changing the name from Model A to sedan. In these years of depression, 1933, '34, '35, no yearbooks were published because no one had money to buy them. When the 1936 edition arrived, it contained unforgettable information. South had boy cheerleaders, Robert Jendusa, now a city alderman and Herbert Engel, a prominent realtor. These fellows led the crowd that backed their city football champions of 1940. Assembly A was renamed Coblentz Hall in tribute to Mr. Harry E. Coblentz, who was principal for 27 years. On Cobie day, September 24, 1946, a large group of prominent alumni came to school to pay tribute to this former principal.

2 COACHES

Mr. Raymond Dauk, Mr. Thomas Ruffing.

Eluded by a victory game after game, the Cardinal Frosh-Soph football team closed the season with a victory over Juneau. Finding paydirt for the yannigans, were halfback Pete Froemming and fullback Donald Streng. Scoreless in their first three contests against Boys Tech, Bay View, and Pulaski, the gridders dropped a tough defensive battle to Lincoln. Coaches Raymond Dauk and Thomas Ruffing commented, "Despite their lack of size and talent, the team did rather well and needed only a few breaks and a little more effort."

With some walloping defeats over the strongest teams in the city, Coach Robert Donegan's nimble-footed Varsity dashed to a third place in the city conference. Although a combination of bad weather and a lack of confidence brought disaster at the state and sectional meets, Coach Donegan stated, "The great effort the team showed made it the best South has had in ages."

2 On one of South's bread-and-butter plays, Gary Weyer skirts around end, straight for pay-dirt.

Boasting the third best defense in the city conference, the Cardinal gridmen rallied for three victories out of eight conference contests. Bad breaks played an important role in the tight squeezes against Bay View, Tech, and Pulaski. West, North, and Lincoln had the misfortune of falling before South's sharp offense and repelling defense, led by "Dynamite" Denzin, "Maulin'" Mayberry, "Annihilatin'" Andraszczyk, and "Wildman" Weyer.

Another bright spot for the Cardinals was the winning of the homecoming game against Lincoln, the first such victory in seven years. Late season spark was injected into the team by fullback Mike Muhich and quarterback Kim Klima, who led the Red Men to a 13-0 victory over North, a triumphant ending to a satisfactory season.

Also not available for photographing was Gary Soike, another mid-year senior, who was a forward, a hard fighting rebounder, and an effective defensive man.

Varsity Cagers Back on Upswing

Rising from last year's cellar berth, the Cardinal Hoopsters managed to place second in the second division with five triumphs out of sixteen regular conference contests. "Special mention must go to the junior team members, Gregg Slupski, John Sparks, Mike Baker, and Mike Rebro, who did a fine job of filling for losses due to January graduation," commented Mr. Raymond Rozek, who took over the coaching post upon retirement of veteran Walter Rasinske. Throughout the season, center Dennis Lopacinski earned the top accuracy rating in the conference along with being named the most valuable player by his teammates. Senior Jack Berlinski finished strong by scoring twenty-two points in the near upset over powerful Lincoln. With five experienced starters with which to begin the future season, the Card Bucketmen can be sure of their share of victories.

If expressions mean anything, senior center, Dennis Lopacinski, might be voicing his disapproval as the rebound is hauled down by a North opponent.

30 YEARS SPEED BY, YEARBOOKS MULTIPLY

In the 1940's, Ford produced a de luxe coupé. South also produced a de luxe football team that was named city champions with 5 players winning all-city positions. Also coming off the SDHS assembly line was a co-city basketball champion team starring Mr. Roman Jankiewicz, mathematics teacher. As 1945 brought the surrender of Japan to the Allied Forces, it also brought South a special citation from the U.S. Treasury for the selling and purchasing of war stamps and bonds. In post-war years Ford came up with the first of a long line of modern stock convertibles. In 1950 South Division came up with a state championship in wrestling.

40 YEARS MORE, HONORS GALORE

In the 1950's Ford made the big change in cars, and in 1960 the nation saw a variety of models produced, from compacts to limousines, from swing-away steering wheels to fully synchronized 3-speed manual transmissions. The students at South saw their baseball team take city championship in 1959, the addition of fire prevention doors, lessons in biology and history via television, and the installment of a modern ventilating system. Just as the "Tin Lizzie" faded out to the super sports convertible, the 1913 yearbook faded out to the 1963 Annual with new layouts modeled after those in recent magazines. South proudly clings to traditions, but it steps ahead into the next fifty years with high hopes.

COBLENTZ HALL PROGRAMS

2 Do you have trouble remembering your birth date? Memory expert Mr. Orville Fitzgerald taught South students tricks at a Coblentz Hall program.

3 "Gather 'round, gals, and I'll tell you about the real Conrad Cardinal," cooed Hilda Wimple (Roderick Cywinski) in the Weekly skit, "Buy, Buy Cardinal."

Parents, Guests At Open House

1 Mr. Terrill and the school band stood up and took a bow after delighting parents who were guests at the Christmas concert.

2 A hesitant "Well," and the teacher goes on to explain Johnny's progress in music.

3 Showing parents around and making them feel at home during Open House night were the duties of FTA members.

4 Before returning home to deliver the consequences of their discussions with teachers, parents were treated to coffee and doughnuts.

1 "Morning South" is Mr. May's greeting as he makes the day's announcements.

2 Getting their ears and eyes checked by the school nurse, South Divisionites were helped to better grades.

3 Twisting till the magic hour, Cinderellas and their Prince Charmings wore out many a glass slipper.

4 With the Christmas spirit filling not only the hearts of students but also the windows, the decorations reflected the true giving spirit.

5 Taking a breather, South's future Michelangelos were caught in the act of decorating the girls' gym.

Classes We Will Remember

1 Introductions and side comments were made by Mr. May at the 1962 athletic banquet.

2 Art club members smile as they put the final touch to the prom decorations.

3 Expressing their results with smiles, interested exchange students from Juneau checked the resistances of metals.

4 Proper care for the hair is demonstrated by two students in their home nursing class.

5 Reading the final question on the IBM sheet, advanced typists confidently completed the Civil Service test.

The Fine Full Life

6 Awaiting the fourth hour rush, the cafeteria crew serves another nourishing meal to hungry South Divisionites.

7 Brushes whizzed and paint splattered as busy students decorated the girls' gym for the 1963 Caperee

8 Participants in the Milwaukee high school exchange program, two students from Juneau High received instruction from art teacher Allen Caucutt.

9 However slim the chances of winning may be, anxious guests hopefully draw for prizes at the Kick-off dance.

Yes, We Like the Light Side

1 Catching all "hall walkers," this monitor reflects the seriousness of her job.

2 Posing for the Camera Service club, these two cut-ups gave the group a hearty laugh.

3 Sticky-eyed juniors arrived at 7:30 in the morning to pay for their coveted class rings.

4 Arousing a victory spirit in the student body, South's Go, Go, Go Girls do one of their many routines.

5 Excited ooh's and aah's were heard coming from the cafeteria when class rings arrived.

That's all there is. Hope you like it.

We, the 1963 Cardinal Annual Staff, wish to extend appreciation to the school administrators, faculty, and the student body who assisted in the production of this book.

Special acknowledgement is extended to Miss Margery Barry, literary adviser; Mr. Eugene Mecikalski, art adviser; Mr. Edward McGarty, photography adviser; Mr. Conrad Saskowski and Miss Alice Paquette, co-business managers; Mr. Leonard Jazwiecki, school accountant, for their valuable assistance, and to Mr. Robert Lingenfelder, commercial photographer, and to Mr. Kendall Haughtelin, North American Press representative, for their cooperation and guidance.

The entire staff wishes to express their thanks to these individuals and to the hundreds of loyal students who subscribed to the 1963 memory book.

Happy Anniversary, Cardinal Annual; the Staff Wishes You Success in All the Years Ahead
